New London City office for REAL

Real Estate Associates Ltd has marked the start of its tenth anniversary year by expanding into new premises at Minster Court, London EC3.

The landmark neo-gothic development is renowned for its three giant bronze horse statues and striking architecture including Europe's highest bank of free-standing escalators, serving the massive atrium whose height is equivalent to Nelson's Column.

REAL's relocation will enable the company to strengthen existing links with City-based clients and investors in the financial and insurance sectors, while maintaining easy access to West-End property contacts and burgeoning activity in Canary Wharf and docklands.
