REAL extends property management portfolio

Real Estate Associates has added to its property management portfolio with a new instruction covering 40 residential properties in London, on behalf of an investment fund client.

Real's management portfolio now exceeds 200 properties across office, retail, industrial and residential sectors. Clients include a selection of investment funds, corporates and private investors based in the UK and overseas.

"Real's specialist property management services are especially relevant where property tactics must be aligned with a wider fund or corporate strategy" said Real's director Alan Bate. Real's service involves a 'business plan for every property' with the effects consolidated into a strategic corporate plan. Accounting reports and treasury functions, including the special requirements of institutions and offshore entities, are readily accommodated using Real's bespoke database and IT platform coupled with their extensive market experience.
